

Gender Binary System

A culturally and socially defined code of acceptable and expected behaviors which assumes that there are men and women, who are masculine and feminine, and that there is nothing outside this system. This can be seen as oppressive to people who do not fit neatly into one of these categories.

RULES:

1. You must on one side or the other; not neither, not both.
2. You cannot choose which side you are on.
3. All traits are locked together.
4. Males are given more privileges.
